

Table of Contents

Foreword by Michael Negele	1
Introduction	3
A tale of cities	3
The genesis of this book	3
Two personal notes	3
General notes	4
Thanks to	4
Part I. Chess in Berlin Until 1860	5
Philidor's stay	6
Deschappelles' two visits	6
The Schachclub	7
Julius Mendheim	8
The Berliner Schachgesellschaft	9
Ludwig Bledow	13
The Pleiades	16
Carl Mayet	17
Wilhelm Hanstein	18
Bernhard Horwitz	19
Tassilo von der Lasa	20
Paul Bilguer	22
Karl Schorn	24
After the Pleiades	24
The second Berlin school	26
Part II. Carl Friedrich Berthold Suhle	27
Private and professional life	28
Chess life: A promising youngster (1858–spring 1859)	29
Out of Bonn (spring–summer 1859)	37
The Berlin years commence (summer 1859–1860)	50
The last playing years (1862–1869)	56
Part III. Philipp Martin Hirschfeld	75
Private and professional life	76
Chess life and games	78
The beginning (1859–1860)	79
The Schachzeitung (1861–autumn 1863)	88
Traveling (December 1863–1871)	106
A London resident (1872–1891)	125
Definitively back in Berlin (1892–1894)	154
Part IV. Gustav Richard Ludwig Neumann	157
Introduction	158
Youth (1838–1860)	159
A first visit to the Berliner Schachgesellschaft	162
Anderssen in Berlin (July 1860)	164
Student years (1860–1863)	165
A fresh start (September 1863–April 1864)	170

A visit to Breslau (April 1864) 182
Paulsen's visit to Berlin (May 1864) 187
Anderssen in Berlin (July 1864) 194
A bet of six months 199
The tournament of the Berliner Schachgesellschaft 1865 213
Anderssen's visit (April 1865) 215
Summer chess 225
Elberfeld (August 1865) 232
The season 1865-1866 233
The tournament of the Berliner Schachgesellschaft 1866 236
Anderssen in Berlin (April 1866) 238
A cruel summer (July–August 1866) 248
A challenge 250
Last months in Berlin (September 1866–May 1867) 251
Paris (June–July 1867) 262
Three matches (July–August 1867) 277
Dundee (September 1867) 287
A controversy with Kolisch 298
Paris 1867–1868 299
Matches with Rosenthal (January–February 1869) 306
The final year in Paris (1869) 312
Breakdown 318
Back to Germany 321
Baden-Baden (July–August 1870) 323
Altona (July 1872) 336
Neumann's purgatory and demise (1872–1881) 338
Appendix I: Bernhard von Guretzky-Cornitz 343
Private and professional life 343
Chess life, games and problems 343
Appendix II: Suhle's Theoretical Contributions to Opening Theory 354
Appendix III: Texts by Suhle Not Concerning Himself 354
Appendix IV: Suhle's Teaching Career 355
Appendix V: Hirschfeld's Theoretical Contributions to Opening Theory 356
Appendix VI: Documents Related to Neumann 357
Bibliography 361
Monographs on other players 361
Tournament books 361
Anthologies 361
Textbooks and handbooks 361
Chess history and reference 362
Other books 362
Chess periodicals 363
Chess columns in periodicals 363
Databases 363
Websites 363
Players Index (to game numbers) 365

Index of Openings—Traditional Names (to game numbers) 367

Index of Openings—ECO Codes (to game numbers) 368

Annotators Index (to game numbers) 369

General Index (to page numbers) 370